'The head. Some lower it, some hide it, and some lose it. I prefer those who use it.' – Rita Levi Montalcini

Chiara Zagnoli's area of expertise is business and corporate law.

She is an experienced professional in company formation and in providing legal advice regarding new business development projects.

She assists clients in drafting and negotiating contracts (supply and service agreements, distribution agreements, confidentiality and exclusivity agreements, non-competition agreements, contracts for the supply of IT services and technological development contracts, software license agreements, sponsorship and brand license agreements, financial contracts such as leasing, factoring, credit, guarantees) with a specific focus on the automotive and motorsport sectors.

She advises clients on European Union and Italian law, particularly in the areas of corporate compliance and corporate governance, labour law and safety at work, data protection legislation and consumer rights.
