Passionate about horse riding, she has developed a strong sense of discipline and rigor, which has proven highly beneficial in her law studies.

Léa Colloud is a law student at the University of Fribourg. She is enrolled in a bilingual French-German program. She has also obtained a distinction in "Introduction to religion Law".
Alongside her studies, she gained initial professional experience as an auxiliary secretary at a law firm in Fribourg.
Since July 2025, she has been working as a student assistant in Dr. Michael Daphinoff's team. She is committed to supporting them efficiently with administrative tasks.
