Kellerhals Carrard Geneva

Rue François-Bellot 6

1206 Geneva

Curious and detail-oriented, Loraine applies her analytical mindset to support legal professionals, ensuring precise follow-up and efficient case management where every detail truly matters.

With an interdisciplinary background in international relations and a strong experience in project management, Loraine stands out for her ability to structure and coordinate complex processes in a demanding environment.

Before joining the firm, she worked at the EPER Mobile Offices as a project assistant, where she gained valuable experience in project management and legal support. She also interned at organizations specializing in international law and human rights. Notably, she worked on strategic projects involving report writing, organizing legal events, and coordinating institutional collaborations.

With excellent language skills and strong interpersonal abilities, Loraine excels in communication and managing relationships with various stakeholders. Her interest in new technologies and digital content creation allow her to offer modern and effective solutions in legal communication.
